DEDICATION

"Every action of our lives touches on some chord that will vibrate in eternity."

EDWIN HUBBEL CHAPIN

Because each of us has been touched by the community, kindness, and unity we have found at Lawrence Academy, the 1982-1983 yearbook staff wishes to express our gratitude and deep appreciation to Father Wilkiemeyer, a man whose dream of establishing an integrated educational center has become a marvelous reality.

Mixers "Shake It Up"

The year was off to a great start in the gym, with the senior high school rockin' and rollin' to the kinky sounds of the Kinks and blaring music by Rush and Scorpions. Meanwhile, the aroma of hot dogs pervaded the air outside as junior-high-schoolers splish-splashed and sprayed each other in a hard-fought water volleyball game.

Double Identity

This year's senior class was unique. They seemed almost to have two sides. They were a group that knew both how to work and how to play

During the week, they could hit the books as hard as anyone. When any task—no matter how large—was placed before them they'd all jump in and work together until it was finished.

Weekends, however, was a time to shed the books, sit back, and ENJOY!!! Whether it was a school dance, a picnic at Vasona, or a party at Sheila Ryan's house, they really knew how to have fun.

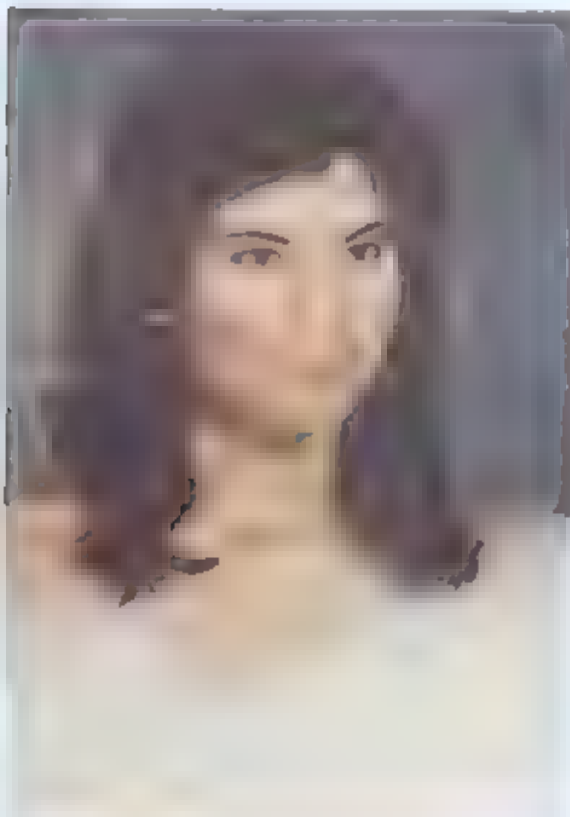

Whether it was work or play, they all enjoyed each other's company, and that was what made them special.

Thoughtful Messages

Seniors chose to express themselves through their own words and thoughts as well as through the ideas of other.

"Don't hang on, nothing lasts forever but the earth and sky. Its slips away, and all your money won't another minute buy."

-Kansas

NEIL ANDERSEN

"Happiness is in the taste, and not in the things themselves; We are happy from possessing what we like, not from possessing what others like."

-La Rochefoucauld

KEVIN BEDELL

"Good humor is the health of the soul; Sadness its poison."

-Stanislaus

MIA CATALA

"Your friends all pass, for life is just a market. But you have to finish everything you started. So I live my life tearing down the runway. Sure to get the hang of hanging in there someday."

-The Who

DAVID FANCIULLO

They say life is oh so hard,
But that I can not see.
We are having fun in life,
For we're the class of '83!
MARTIN FLAHERTY

"I know you got a lot of things happening up ahead, The past is gone, it's all been said. Here's to what the future brings, I hope tomorrow you'll find Better Things."

-The Kinks

GEORGE FOYE

If I told you I was going to college, I could be wrong. If I told you I was going to be successful in life, I could be wrong. If I told you I will be happy in the future, I could be wrong. Because

"the wheel in the sky keeps on turning, I don't know where I'll be tomorrow."

-Journey

GEORGE GONZALES

For every memory, a tear will be shed. For every friend, a prayer will be said. Now, I'd like to sing my praise in remembrance of the yesterdays.

SANCHA HAYSBERT

"If you think I'll sit around as the world goes by, You're thinking like a fool, 'cause it's a case of do or die. Out there is a fortune waiting to be had, If you think I'll let it go, you're mad; You've got another thing comin'."

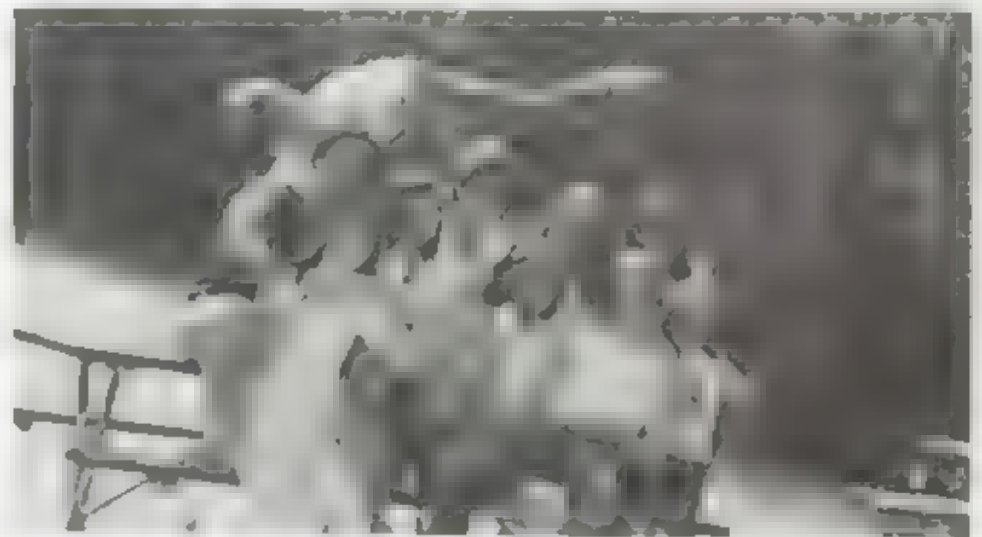

-Judas Priest

PAT HOLLAND

The sweetest bird builds near the ground, the loveliest flower springs low; And we must stoop for happiness. If we its worth would know.

-Swan

EUN JOO KIM

Yesterday is already a dream,
and tomorrow is only a vision;
but today, well-lived
makes every yesterday
a dream of happiness,
and every tomorrow
a vision of hope.

-The Sanskrit

DEXTER LEE

"Who could've thought, A little lovin' could go such a long way. Understanding in the day,
Some music to help you know just what to say."

-Pat Travers

CHERYL LEVERIZA

"Friendship is the only thing in the world concerning the usefulness of which all mankind are agreed."

-Cicero

STEVE LOPUCH

Though we now must go our way, and live our lives day by day, We won't forget the friends we had and how our parting was so sad, But we will be strong, and we're proud to be, the senior class of '83'

DONNA MCMORDIE

"As far as possible without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly, and listen to others."

-Desi-
derata

HENRY RUDDLE

"Our memories of yesterday
Will last a lifetime
We'll take the best, forget the rest
And someday we'll find
These are the best times."

Styx

SHEILA RYAN

"Let the good times roll,
Let them take you away,
Let them bring you up in the air,
Let them cross your rock n' roll hair,
Let the good times roll."

-Cars

JENNIFER SHEPARD

"Time is a sort of river of passing events, and strong is its current;
No sooner is a thing brought to sight than it is swept by and another takes its place, and this too will be swept away."

-Marcus Aurelius Antonius

PATTY XENOS

"Come Mothers and Fathers throughout the land, Don't criticize what you can't understand, Your sons and your daughters are beyond your command, Your old road is rapidly aging,
Please get out of the new world if you can't lend your hand, for the times they are changing!"

Utterly Sensational Juniors

The Junior class officers for the 1982-1983 school year planned numerous contests and raffles to raise money. They concentrated on sponsoring events that would provide fun and funds for the junior class and the academy as well. Brent Bennett remarked on his hopes for the year when he said, "I plan on working hard with Paul Brindle and the student council in order to leave my mark of contribution on the school." That's the spirit!

We Are Family

The word family held special meaning for the class of '84. Although the juniors worked independently as individuals, they found themselves united in a special way that can best be expressed in that simple word—family. A close group that strived towards their goals without hesitation, juniors found themselves supporting each other and urging each other on in their quest for success. Junior class vice-president Brent Bennett was asked to describe his class in one word. His reaction? "Family—a family of people who want to succeed."

Sophomore class officers contributed to a fun and action-packed year. During the 1982-1983 school year, sophomores sponsored the successful Cal Skate party, helped make Halloween festivities run smoothly, and organized the Sadie Hawkins dance in November. As sophomore president Tracie Carey said, "The class of '85 shows true spirit in school activities!"

Many-Sided Sophomores

The class of '85 had many outstanding qualities this year. They were very athletic, making up one half of the 1982-1983 varsity basketball team. They were also very musical. One half of this year's jazz/rock band was made up of sophomore members Liz Eckford, Casey Kim, Ken Morris, Steve Reyling, and Nick Gardella. School activities and spirit were important to the sophomore class, as shown by their big wins in home-room competitions. Sports, sound and spirit - - three great sides to sophomores!

Undeniably Super Freshmen

Freshmen officers started the 1982-1983 school year "fresh", without much experience in school government. By listening to ideas from students, freshman class officers made this year a success. As president George Black said, "With good ideas and a lot of hard planning, our entire freshman class has come along just fine!" The class of '86 heartily agreed!

No Friction Among Freshman Friends

This year the freshman class was going strong with typical Lawrence Academy spirit. A group that believed in action, freshmen were big participators in volleyball, basketball and softball.

Freshmen showed their spirit through action in other ways. Religion classes taught them the importance of giving without thought of returns. Freshmen spread goodwill and friendship throughout the year, demonstrating spirit in the full sense of the word. The class of '86 will be remembered for their warmth and kindness!!

Activity, Vivacity, Energy!

This year many new activities were instituted. We had successful intramural leagues, many good rallies, and how can we forget Harrell's Heroic Awards? We had guests from other schools and many successful clubs and groups. These included the drama club, the band and Campus Ministry. The dances were a big hit also. The Hawaiian Dance sponsored by the senior class was the biggest money-maker in the short history of the school. In all, the '82-'83 year was the best yet at Lawrence Academy, and we're looking forward to many new activities in the years ahead

The Envelope Please!

It has become a yearly tradition at Lawrence Academy to hold elections for the Celtic "Academy Awards". Each high school student is asked to vote for their favorite person in categories that vary from year to year. The year-book staff puts in many long hours organizing, counting votes, and getting pictures of our award winners. And now the envelope please!

Basketball's Better and Better

The spirited Celtics started the season with a strong win against Liberty Baptist. The score spotlighted Celtic superiority: Lawrence 62, Liberty Baptist 43

Our team completed the season with a four win, six loss record. Coach Gates was enthusiastic: "I'm very pleased with the progress the team has shown and the players' willingness to work hard." A new team at Lawrence, the Celtic basketball team should grow stronger with each passing year!

Celtic sports for girls centered on volleyball and basketball during the '82 - '83 season. The volleyball team, led by high-scorers Linda Goldenberger, Cammon Espeland, and Eun Joo Kim, racked up 8 wins and 15 losses. Coach Karen "Hock" Hockemeyer said, "The team really showed improvement, and next year should be an even better season."

In basketball, the Celtic team doubled in size and strength, showing much improvement over the '81 - '82 season. Coach Lauren Prescott stated, "We've beaten a team which killed us last year, and that can only mean we're getting better and better all the time."

Unusually Spirited Eighth

Eighth graders worked hard this year to provide junior high students with successful events, like the Christmas Dance and the St. Patrick's Dance. They planned for graduation activities, working to make it the best ceremony ever. Eighth graders also participated in school government, trying to bring about changes in Lawrence Academy's dress code. Cheerleader Annie Franco summed up her feelings about this year's eighth graders when she said, "The spirit of the class of 1987 is tremendous!"

Unequivocally Spellbinding Seventh

Seventh graders were a spirited group in '82-'83, involving themselves in the sports programs and student government. Newcomers in September, they quickly made themselves right at home, getting along well with their teachers and other students. Seventh-grader Tracey Iosco put her feelings into words: "Lawrence Academy rules over all others!"

Spartan Hall of Fame

The Spartan Hall of Fame is a traditional entry in the Lawrence Academy yearbook. Every year, junior high school students nominate and vote for candidates in many categories. Votes are counted, the winners are announced, and photographs are taken to record Hall of Fame winners. Congratulations to all those nominated, and of course, to all those special junior high school students who won!

Spartans Swing into Spirit

The Spartans started the year with a successful Hawaiian luau, given so that returning students could welcome the new. At Halloween, junior high schoolers joined in the spirit of the holiday by entering the costume contest and pumpkin carving. To show their Christmas spunk, seventh graders won the door-decorating contest. The Christmas Dance and the St. Patrick's Day Dance were huge successes, showing Spartans know how to have a good time.

A formal dinner-dance and a graduation-week trip sent eighth graders off with a smile. Seventh graders ended the year with a bar-be-que.

Spectacular Spartan Sports

Spartan sports included basketball, football, and soccer during the '82-'83 season. Coach Clayton devoted much time to working with the teams in practice.

The Spartan football team was able to battle league champion St. Simon's in a very close game. Dan Fernandez was chosen most valuable player.

Spartan basketball improved with Anthony Smith and Dan Fernandez as key players. Both were named to the all-star team. Jesse Lee was also a valuable team asset.

Spartan soccer team members were optimistic in February about a winning season.

Super Spartans in Sports

The Spartan baseball team had an outstanding 9-2 season. Mary McGuire, Jenny Dix, and Kathy Dydynski, most valuable, most inspirational, and most improved players respectively, helped lead their team to victory. Coach Prescott admired the team's overwhelming determination.

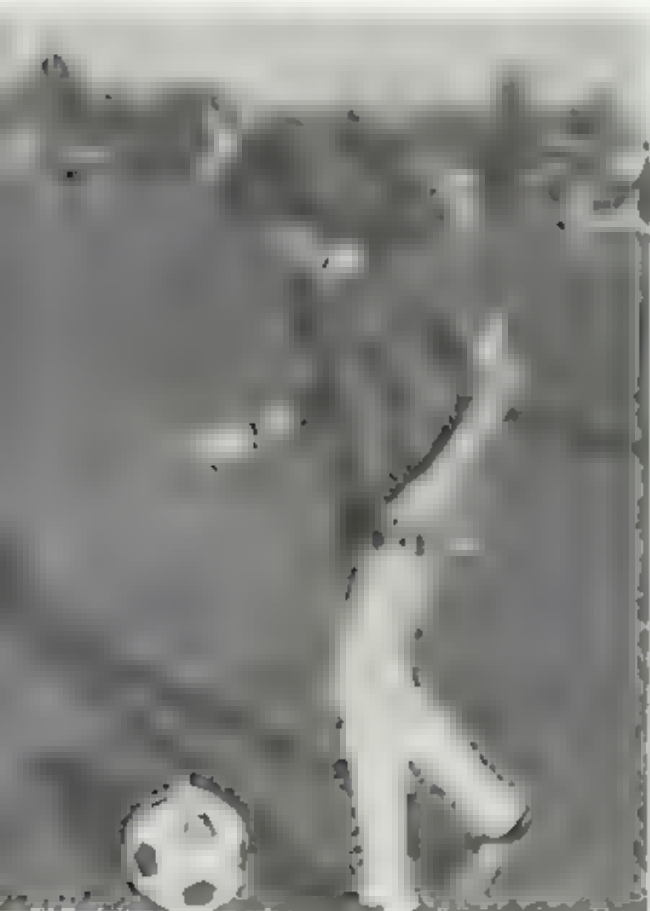

Spartan soccer members worked long hours on perfecting their moves. Most outstanding player Erin Swiontek contributed to the wins in her team's 3-3 record. Coach DeMers was enthusiastic, especially pleased with the season's last game, a big win over St. William's.

Three Cheers for Spartans!

The Spartan cheerleaders for the 1982-83 school year showed enthusiasm, creativity and enormous spirit, supporting Spartan teams in their quest for victory in football, basketball, and baseball. In addition to cheering on the Spartans, the cheerleaders also gave several outstanding performances at rallies and school assemblies. Cheerleader Annie Franco said, "We worked hard together to encourage school spirit. It was really fun and everyone got along fine!"

Absolutely Astounding ASB

The Associated Student Body of Lawrence Academy, though still in its infancy, had accomplishments to point at with great pride in 1982-83. The school year saw more dances and activities than any preceding it. ASB also rescued the students with the hot lunch program on Wednesdays. ASB members hoped that this year was just the beginning of a more vigorous, active student council.

Drama Acts Up

The cast began work on "A Thurber Carnival" in October. The first month was full of after-school rehearsals until 4:30. There was more line studying at night. During November, Mr. Shurmantine, the drama coach, began pushing the actors to learn their lines and even a few dances. Come December, the cast had practiced with Miss Prescott's jazz band and everyone was finally ready for opening night

All That Jazz (And Rock Too!)

The Lawrence Academy band really improved this year. Due to the addition of two bass guitars and two electric guitars, the band was not only jazz-oriented like last year, but showing rock influences too. The band consisted of Hugo Jungers and Brent Bennett on bass, Ken Morris and Steve Reyl- ing on electric guitar, Kathie Gas- sett on clarinet and alto sax, Maria Horn on trumpet, and Liz Eckford and Nick Gardella on drums. The band was warmly received as they performed at school rallies and provided accompaniment for the school play in December. Overall, it was an incredible year for music at Lawrence!

Library

During the 1982-83 school year, the library continued to expand its collection and services with longer hours, new furniture, more AV equipment, and MANY new books and programs. Mrs. Carol Manoukian and Mrs. Joanne Falconer proved once again their invaluable contribution to the Academy, helping students with educational and recreational materials, organizing library aides, and working closely with a highly appreciative faculty.

Honors

1982-83 marks the second year Lawrence Academy has been affiliated with the California Scholarship Federation (CSF), an organization which fosters high standards of scholarship, service, and citizenship.

Membership in the National Honor Society (NHS) signifies outstanding achievement of scholarship, service, leadership, character, and citizenship.

Congratulations to all CSF and NHS members!

Capturing the Spirit

The 1982-83 yearbook staff was a group of very dedicated students. Under the direction of editor Jennifer Shepard, they worked hard to make sure all school activities were covered. They slaved endless hours writing copy and captions, taking pictures, and meeting the all-important deadlines.

This year's staff was striving for a more "professional" yearbook. The people involved have made the difference. As photo-editor Colette Zrodlo said, "This year's annual will be the best ever because of the true get-up-and-go spirit of the staff."

Stop the Presses

The 1982-83 newspaper staff worked hard at making the "Lawrence Express" a success. Editor David Riveness handled his job well, assigning stories and making sure the paper was running smoothly.

Assistant-editor Erich Winkler took his responsibilities seriously, helping with newspaper management and promoting advertising. Staff writers contributed greatly to the newspaper's success. David Riveness commented on this year's experience with the newspaper: "I'm sure it will help me later in life!"

Campus Ministry

This year Lawrence Academy had some of its best masses ever. Under Mr. Tom Patterson's guidance, Campus Ministry successfully put on every First Friday mass. They were also involved in charitable causes, such as the December food drive. Seven barrels of canned goods were collected, in comparison to the two barrels collected last year. This food made Christmas more meaningful for many of the community's hungry as well as for those who participated in the drive. One-day retreats for underclassmen were held at St. Joseph's Seminary in Mountain View. An overnight retreat for seniors was also planned. A Global Awareness Day was held as a part of the 1983 Easter celebration. Lawrence Academy thanks Mr. Patterson for a very successful and active Campus Ministry.

Supportive Super Staff

The 1982-83 faculty was very supportive, promoting an outstanding rapport with students. Teachers were always willing to help with school assignments or to just talk during their lunch hours and after school. They also participated in school activities and functions. New teachers Mr. Foley and Mr.

Patterson, for example, contributed many hours of time and effort to the computer room and to basketball. Overall, the faculty's most outstanding quality was their refusal to quit just because the dismissal bell had rung.

Steadfast Support

If you heard "What's your excuse?" or "When do you need this?", you must have been in the office. The three outstanding women who greeted students from the main office were actually the school's "glue"—they handled the one million chores that helped hold Lawrence Academy together! Their importance can not be overestimated. Thank you's to Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Gray, and Mrs. Morrison!

Know-how and Can-do!

Thanks to our building maintenance crew under the expert supervision of Mr. Hank Winn, we had a warm, clean school. No job was ever too complicated for Mr. Winn and his men to tackle. We truly can't imagine what we'd do without them. Thanks, men!

Our World—1982-1983

- 1 The Australian rock band Men at Work hit the top of the charts with the single "Who Can It Be Now?"
- 2 The "winningest" college football coach Paul "Bear" Bryant died at the age of 69
- 3 Unemployment reached astounding levels in 1982-83
- 4 "ET—The Extraterrestrial" made box-office history
- 5 Numerous deaths from cyanide-laced Tylenol prompted drug packaging controls
- 6 Fullback John Riggins led the Redskins to a Super Bowl victory over Miami
- 7 Robert Jarvik invented an artificial heart, which was transplanted into Barney Clark in December
- 8 Video games flooded the market at Christmas
- 9 Pink Floyd's movie, "The Wall", was a success in 1982

1982-83 will be remembered as "The Year of Violence." Wars in the Middle East, South America and Latin America dominated the evening news. Arms reduction talks were a constant topic, but no agreement was ever worked out. Tylenol and cyanide poisonings became a constant worry. Inflation was on the decline, but unemployment reached levels unequalled since the Great Depression.

There were bright spots, however. A man was kept alive for an extended period of time with an artificial heart implant. Hundreds of thousands joined together in rallies protesting nuclear arms. And the nearly 58,000 dead or missing American servicemen from Vietnam finally received some recognition with a memorial in Washington, D.C.

The entertainment industry enjoyed renewed success. Who can forget such blockbuster movies as "E.T.", "The Wall", "Tootsie", "An Officer and a Gentleman", and "Poltergeist"? Despite the sagging economy, the music industry produced many great albums. There was "Business as Usual" by Men at Work, "Night and Day" by Joe Jackson, "H.O." by Hall and Oates, and "It's Hard" by The Who. "It's Hard" marked the Who's farewell tour, which gave us two excellent concerts in Oakland and Los Angeles. Television gave us a lot of new, refreshing series. CBS's grip on the Nielson ratings was broken only by "Dynasty" of ABC. "M*A*S*H" said goodbye after its eleventh season.

The world lost several prominent people. The fast life caught up with John Belushi, as he succumbed to a drug overdose. Henry Fonda, star of 85 films, died at age 77. Others to leave us included Grace Kelly, Satchel Paige, Ingrid Bergman, and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev.

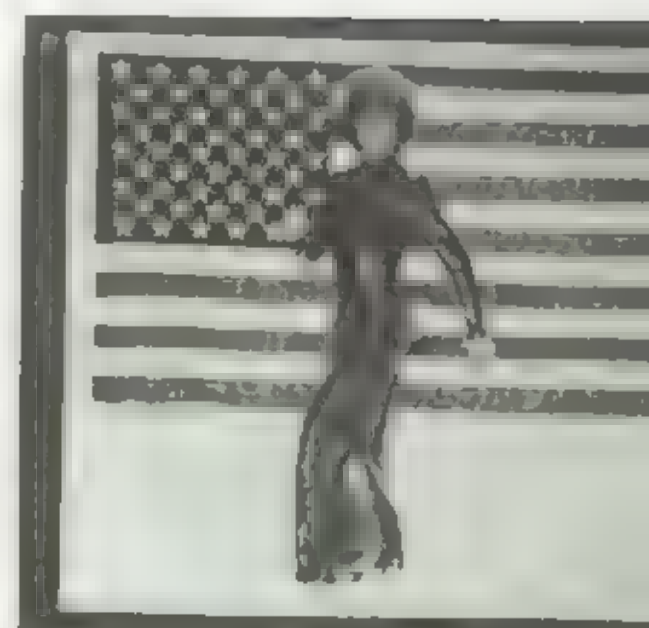

Through all the good and bad we live with, the class of '83 leaves Lawrence with much optimism. In the words of Jennifer Shepard, "Even though things have been bad at times, I'm just glad I was a part of Lawrence's growth."
